1. [REDACTED] OCR Liaison and Collection Division, was called to ascertain what liaison arrangements had been made with other departments and agencies in government for an emergency situation. He said that they had recommended the accreditation of four liaison officers -- 1 each to Army, Navy, Air Force, and State; this action had been recommended to the DD/I and [REDACTED] Up to 25X1A9a this point, only the State-CIA liaison has been established.

2. The intent of the Liaison and Collection Division in requesting the accreditation of a liaison officer to each of the major agencies with which CIA would conduct business was for the purpose of establishing an "umbrella arrangement" under which more specific liaison could be developed. Also, the establishment of official Agency liaison channels would assure at least a point of contact during an emergency situation.
